Satisfyer

Satisfyer extends Airpulse technology patent to Japan

Satisfyer, one of the world's leading companies in the field of sexual wellness, extends the recognition of its Airpulse technology to Japan. Since June 2nd of this year, the Satisfyer pressure wave or Airpulse technology has been patented and therefore protected in Japan, as in many other countries. This also includes the world-famous bestseller, the Satisfyer Pro 2, which has been sold over 25 million times since 2016 and is one of the best-known products with over 100,000 reviews on Amazon.

Satisfyer wants to meet all the needs of its customers and also shines with the largest product portfolio in the sexual wellness market worldwide - over 200 (!) Satisfyer products! The patent covers all offers that use the above technology. Thus, the patenting, which has already been concluded in Europe as well as Australia, Canada, Mexico, South Africa and Russia, will be continued.
